We have a Swedish manager.

He's French.
They're German.

We use adjectives ending in 'an' as nouns:

He's a German/an American/an Italian. ✓

He's a Swedish/a French/a Japanese. ✗

For the nouns of nationalities ending with -ese, -ish, or -ch, we can use 'the' to talk about the whole population.

The English often take their holidays in France.

For nationalities ending with -n, generally no article is necessary.

Americans are friendly.
