

Comparatives and superlatives of superiority

Introduction

Sam is taller than his sister.

The white egg is the biggest and the red egg is the smallest.

Definition and use

We use comparative adjectives to compare two things or people.

We use superlative adjectives to compare more than two things or people.

Construction

The construction usually depends on the number of syllables.

Comparatives:

One-syllable	adjective + 'er' + 'than' colder than	Sweden is colder than France.
Two-syllables and ending in a consonant and 'y'	adjective + 'er' + 'than' busier than	I'm busier than my boss.
More than two syllables	'more' + adjective + 'than' more expensive than	Cars are more expensive than motorbikes.

Superlatives:

One-syllable	'the' + adjective + 'est' the coldest	Antarctica is the coldest place in the world.
Two-syllables and ending in a consonant and 'y'	'the' + adjective + 'est' the busiest	September is the busiest month for us.
Others with two syllables	'the most' + adjective the most honest	She's the most honest person in the department.
More than two syllables	'the most' + adjective the most expensive	This is the most expensive car in the world.

One vowel and one consonant - double and add 'est'	More than one vowel or consonant - add 'est'	Ends in 'e' - add 'st'	Change 'y' to 'i' and add 'est'
big - the biggest thin - the thinnest wet - the wettest	steep - the steepest rich - the richest near - the nearest	nice - the nicest wide- the widest close - the closest	dry - the driest pretty - the prettiest happy - the happiest

Sometimes we use both in one sentence. For example:
