Definition

And, but, or, and so are conjunctions.

I like dogs	but	I don't like cats.
Do you prefer tea	or	coffee?
We're not going out today	because	it's raining.
It's raining	so	we're not going out today.

Uses

We use them to add some extra information.

Word order

The conjunctions and, but, or, because and so are usually placed in the middle of a sentence but can also be used to begin a sentence, especially in informal writing:

Because so many people are on holiday, it's very quiet in the office at the moment.

With and, but, or and so, there is a sense of a pause before emphasising something:

 It's a serious problem. But, don't worry - I think I have a solution.
 We could invite everyone to the meeting. Or maybe we should limit it to team leaders.
