Conjunctions: and, but, or, because, so

Introduction

We have beef and pork today but no fish.

Definition

And, but, or, and so are conjunctions.

Construction

They join two parts of a sentence:<?xml:namespace prefix = "o" ns = "urn:schemas-microsoft-com:office: />

I have two sons and one daughter.
I like dogs but I don't like cats.

Do you prefer tea or coffee?

We're not going out because it's raining.

It's raining so we're not going out today.

Uses

We use them to add some extra information.

Conjunction Use	Examples
-----------------	----------

and	To join two or more pieces of information - it suggests 'also'	I live in Paris and I work in a bank.  We need bread, cheese and wine.
but	To join two contrasting ideas	I'm busy today but I'm free tomorrow.
or	To join two or more pieces of information in a negative sentence	I don't like wine or beer.  We don't have any apples, oranges or bananas.
	To join two possibilities	We can finish this today or tomorrow.
because	To give a reason	I'm having lunch early today because I have a meeting this afternoon.
so	To add a consequence or a result	I have a meeting this afternoon so I'm having lunch early today.

Word order

The conjunctions and, but, or, because and so are usually placed in the middle of a sentence but can also be used to begin a sentence, especially in informal writing:

It's very quiet in the office at the moment because so many people are on holiday. Because so many people are on holiday, it's very quiet in the office at the moment.

With and, but, or and so, there is a sense of a pause before emphasising something:

We need to find new premises. And we need to employ two new managers! It's a serious problem. But, don't worry - I think I have a solution. We could invite everyone to the meeting. Or maybe we should limit it to team leaders.

It's getting nearer to the deadline. So, let's work hard to get it finished.

Examples

In Canada, they speak English and French.

"I'm not available on Wednesday, Thursday or Friday." "Well, I'm free on Monday but not Tuesday."

You can pay now or when you leave.

I'm not buying this because I don't like the colour.

It's sunny today so we're having a barbecue.
