Definition of a noun

Nouns

We use a noun to name a person, place, or thing.

In a sentence, it can be a subject or an object. In English, nouns do not have genders [masculine or feminine].

Jenny is a teacher. She lives in London with her husband, Bill, and their two children. Bill is a musician. He plays the guitar in a band. Their daughter goes to school and their son is studying medicine at King's College.

Common nouns and proper nouns

We use proper nouns for specific people, places, institutions or organisations. Proper nouns always start with a capital letter.

Common nouns are not the names of a specific or single person, place or thing. They do not start with a capital letter.
