

Irregular verbs

Irregular verbs do not follow the 'ed' rules for forming the past simple:

'walk' + 'ed' = walked [regular verb]

Some irregular verbs stay the same in both forms, others change a vowel and some change completely. Sometimes there are two possible forms for the past simple; the difference is sometimes regional.

Note that the list does not include all the compound verbs because they follow the same rules as the root verb. For example:
